

In case of an Emergency

- Be aware of the crossing number you are on or street you may have crossed as well as the color code marker on the trail.
 - Riders are encouraged to always ride with their cell phone safely connected to their person and not in a saddle bag. If you get separated from your horse and you are alone, you will want access to your phone
 - Do not move the patient or horse if there is an apparent injury.
 - Call 911 and describe your location. Eg in the jump arena, dressage arena or what street have you most recently crossed and what trail you are on. (Please raise your awareness of where you are at any given time on the trail system, this knowledge can save your life in an emergency) 911 can also locate you by your cell phone signal if you have service.
 - Call the vet if the horse is injured. Always have your vets phone number with you.
 - Secure any loose horses after the patient has been tended to or by another person in your group.
 - If an ambulance is called and the rider is down on the trail, have a designated person meet the ambulance at the nearest cross street to the incident.
 - If the accident is at the equestrian center have someone meet the ambulance at the entrance to the equestrian complex to expedite finding the correct arena
 - Ask the Ambulance driver not to use their lights or sirens, due to the danger of spooking additional horses.

After Emergency Has Been Controlled

- Make sure all loose horses are accounted for and contact the 911 Sheriff Animal control if there are loose horses to report. Report closest location and request for horses to be cared for.
- Document the scene with photos if possible, if you feel something “caused the situation”
- Notify PRPOA of incident as soon as possible and follow up by sending a full description to the office in an email, at your earliest convenience.
- Office phone number 352-746-0899

Footing Maintenance plan:

All Pine Ridge arenas should be scheduled for once a week maintenance. A log should be maintained of this routine maintenance. Anytime there is a reason for the maintenance to be delayed, the reason should be noted in the logbook. Any problems noted during this routine maintenance should be reported to the property management, so that it can be properly addressed.

All users of the equestrian facilities should stay aware of the arena conditions and the trail conditions, please take care not to use the area if you think it might be unsafe. Any problems with footing, drainage or arena equipment should be reported. These situations could be reported to one of the Equestrian Liaisons (Bridget Imparato 352-598-7469, Cathy Brooks 352-527-8815, or Marianne McGuire 352-527-0630), the Barn Manager, or the PRPO manager (Gail Denny 352-346-9317) immediately so that they can be attended to.
